A Python 3.7 â†' 3.10 Feature Summary

Author: Josh Samara

Claps: 82

Date: Jun 16

We just finished upgrading our main codebase from Python 3.7 to Python 3.10. Hereâ€™s an internal talk I gave to summarize the cool new features available this jump including new standard lib packages, better typing tools, new syntax, and more!

Useful links

- Whatâ€™s New In Python 3.8
- Whatâ€™s New In Python 3.9
- Whatâ€™s New In Python 3.10
- A great talk on timezones and the new utilities Talks â€" Paul Ganssle: Working with Time Zones: Everything You Wish You Didnâ€™t Need to Know

A slide from my talk. Easily merge dictionaries!